

Little read me

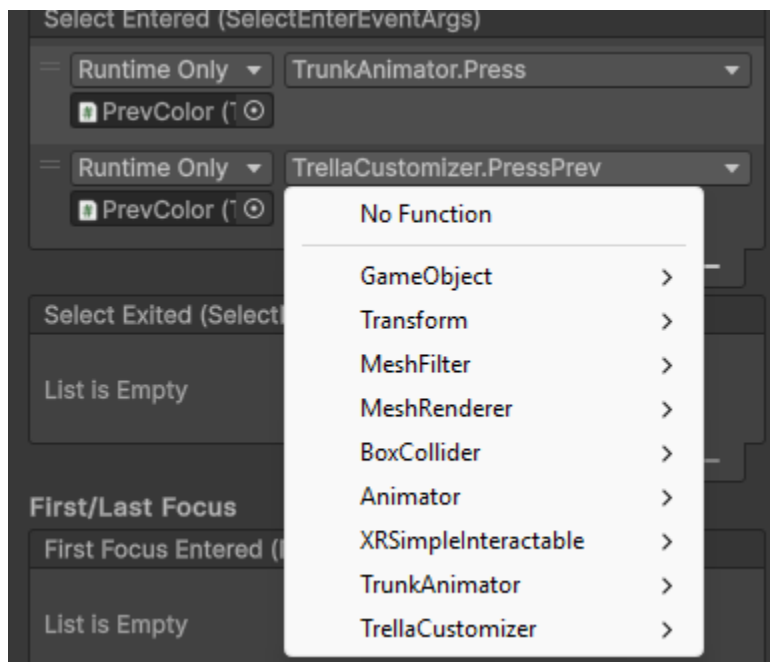

In each individual button you can call functions after an event, to do this go to the inspector of the button and then XR Simple Interactable of the button

Select is the “OnClick()” of XR in Unity

Click the “+” button to add an event, reference the object/script/prefab to be called and select the function.

Here the button references itself as it contains the script for the animation and the color changer